TIME

BY A. BERTON

Cordova, Ill.

What a moving thing is time, time, as it keeps rolling on. Since I've commenced this simple rhyme. Some precious time has gone. Since I first left old Ireland's coast. And faced that frosty climate. Of night but rambling was I hoast. And waiting half my time. So when I left my humble home. Foreign parts I wished to see. O'er land and ocean I would roam. For time was naught to me. But time has changed from then to now. For time is everywhere. It has set its age upon my brow. And filled my mind with care.

And time can work some curious change. I know not what or how. But things that once appeared to strange. Are very simple now.

So here I am in these later days. While busy time flows round me. I must make haste and change my ways. Ere a flood of time shall drown me.

CHURCHES

SCRIPTURE.

I Corinthians 13:1-7. Through I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, and a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge, and though I have all faith, so that I can remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself; charity is not puffed up. Doth not behave itself proudly; charity seeketh not her own; is not easily provoked; thinketh on evil; beareth all things, endureth all things.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 18 years of age and keep steady company with a boy four years my senior. We both have very good reputations. My friend, having no parents, is living with his sister. My mother has no objection to my going with this young man. His sister was very friendly to me when I first made his acquaintance, but lately she has been acting very cool. I have done nothing as far as I can see to offend her and am very much troubled at her attitude. Please advise me how to win her friendship back.

The sister may feel that you have too strong a hold on her brother and naturally she would resent it. Put yourself in the sister's place and try to imagine how you would feel if your parents were dead and you were living with a brother, and then some girl appeared who won the affections of that brother. It would be very hard for you to feel friendly toward that girl. Looking at things in this light, perhaps you can be a little more kindly toward the sister when she is cool, and in time you may make her like you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 20 years old and I am very much in love with a man my own age who wants to marry me. The only thing that keeps me from marrying is my father, who wants me to stay home and keep house for him. My mother has been dead for 10 years and I have taken care of the two younger brothers and my father all this time. When I was 21 I wanted to marry, but my father opposed it so much that I broke my engagement. I was broken-hearted for years, but now my new love makes me glad that I did not marry at the time. Father is objectionable to my marrying this time and I don't know what to do. He has been so disagreeable to the man I am going to marry that he says he won't have father in our home to spoil the atmosphere. And father says he doesn't care, because he wouldn't think of living with us anyway. Do you think I would be doing wrong to marry this time? I am sure it is real love. Of course, I love my father, but I feel that he is not the only one to be considered this time—that the man I love deserves even more from me. What do you think?

MISS D.

Your father is very selfish to want you to give up what will be the most beautiful part of your life. You must consider yourself and the man you are to marry this time. Your father can board or get a housekeeper.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) We are two girls, sophomores in high school, who will be 16 in October. Our parents, in order to induce us not to go out with our friends, have bought us a new two-passenger motor car. Now they are more strict and although we have driven a car they seldom allow us to take this one from the garage. What shall we do?

(2) We are not allowed to attend our class affairs even when they are chaperoned by teachers. Don't you think we should be allowed to go?

(3) We are always nice when we are out. We never want to dance or play cards or have boy friends other than our classmates. Why do you think they are so strict?

(4) Our parents are good to us and they are in their junior or senior year. How can we cause them to allow us more privileges?

(5) If your parents pay for the running expenses of the car, I don't see that there is anything you can do.

(6) A great many girls are not allowed to attend school affairs until the year in their junior or senior year. Be patient. Your parents will let you go as soon as they consider you old enough.

(7) They probably think that there is plenty of time in a year or two to go with boys. I think they are right.

(8) Show by your conduct that you are worthy of more privileges.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

CANNING AND PRESERVING.

Dill Pickles—Pack in one-half gallon jars well-washed cucumbers, one level teaspoon salt, one-half cup cold vinegar, alum the size of pea (either pulverized or lump. Add so much till as you wish, then fill jar with cold water, screw on cover, and tip back and forth to mix ingredients.

Sweet-Sour Pickles—Two hundred and fifty to three hundred tiny cucumbers, wash well and pack in jars. To one gallon vinegar add one-half cup salt, two teaspoons mustard, one teaspoon red cayenne (from drug store), four tablespoons mixed spices. Mix all these thoroughly in a large pan and pour over cucumbers in jars till brimming full, then seal at once.

EASY PICKLES.—Use one cup granulated sugar, one cup ground mustard, one cup salt, one gallon elder vinegar. Mix cold.

Wash cucumbers, put into glass cans or stone crocks, pour this mixture over them cold and seal. If put into crocks, they must not have had water or laid in them, as that water is porous and absorbs grease which kills the vinegar and spoils the pickles.

One-half of the above recipe is enough for 150 cucumbers, which will fill four quart cans.

THE TABLE.

Nut-Cabbage Salad—Select a medium firm head of cabbage. Then cut or shred very fine as for slaw Sprinkle salt and sugar over this. Prepare one cup of English walnut meats and crush rather fine. Then make a dressing of three eggs beaten very light, one-half cup elder vinegar; salt, sugar, mustard and curry powder to taste; one tablespoon flour. Lift bowl and lastly add one-half cup rich cream. Add all ingredients and mix well together with a spoon. Serve on individual chilled head lettuce leaves.

Pecan Cream Cake—Take two cups powdered sugar, two tablespoons butter, three eggs, one cup sour milk, one teaspoon vanilla, two teaspoons baking powder, pinch baking soda, pinch salt, mix well and stir up, then add three cups flour and beat well. Bake slowly. Frosting: Whip one cup sweet cream, stir up with one-half cup powdered sugar, a few drops of vanilla and one pound chopped pecan nut meats. When cake is baked, put on frosting.

Hot Water Sponge Cake—One and one-fourth cups granulated sugar, four eggs, one and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, four tablespoons boiling water. Cream, sugar and yolks of eggs, then add beaten whites; then flour and baking powder. Stir thoroughly, add pinch of salt and flavor to taste. Lastly, add the boiling water and stir thoroughly. Bake in moderate oven 40 to 45 minutes.

MISCELLANEOUS HELPS.

For Baby's Milk—No bottle baby can thrive during hot weather on milk that is not kept on ice. If there is no refrigerator at hand take two wooden boxes, one about three feet square and the other five or six inches smaller every way.

Place the smaller box in the larger one and fill the space between them, bottom and sides, with sawdust. In the center of the smaller box keep a four-quart tin can or covered kettle in which two or three cents' worth of ice may be kept and placed daily. The milk bottles can be stored around it. Painting the outer box improves the appearance. Hinge the lid to close perfectly and line it with a few layers of newspaper. This box can be used by many families as a refrigerator.

Fly Eliminator—Oil of lavender drives away flies better than anything else. Buy an ounce of the oil, pour half of it into a pint bottle of cold water, and shake. If scattered on the tablecloth at meal time the flies will quickly leave.

To Remove Ink—If ink has been spilled on table linen, carpet, gingham, etc., the ink spots should be covered with soda—put on the soda before the ink dries, if possible. If the ink is dry cover with soda and soak in lemon juice. It may take several days to remove all the stain, but it has been done with good success.

YOUR GARDEN.

To root rambling rose, or any kind of rose, take some cuttings from old part of bush, insert them in potatoes and bury the potatoes in the ground; they are sure to grow.

The manager of a Minnesota fat man's baseball team serves meals to every 200 pounder reaching third base.

AFTER TWO YEARS

Rock Island Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Rock Island story that has stood nervous spells. Nightie I was restless and head ached and I had dizzy and the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. P. Pracher, 214 Thirtieth street, Rock Island, says: "My back and mornings I felt miserable. When I stooped over I could hardly straighten up again. I kept getting worse until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon made me feel better and as I kept on taking them, I became stronger in every way." (Statement given May 17, 1912).

On Jan. 6, 1915, Mrs. Pracher said: "I have every bit as much faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I recommended them some years ago. Whenever I feel backache coming on, Doan's Kidney Pills give me prompt relief. I have advised others to try this medicine, and to my knowledge they have all been benefited."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Pracher had. Foster-Milburn Co., Proprs., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)
